

DPS BOKARO STUDENT, AMARTYA UTKARSH, SELECTED AT CORNELL UNIVERSITY, NEW YORK

Amartya Utkarsh of class XII, DPS Bokaro and the Literary Secretary of the Students Council, gains the rare privilege of securing scholarship from Cornell University, New York. This prestigious selection comes to him on a 99 percentile SAT score and for his outstanding academic achievement and recognition of his potential to make a significant contribution to the Cornell University.

Cornell University is a living and learning community committed to fostering personal discovery and growth, nurturing scholarship and creativity, and engaging and enriching the human spirit of women and men from around the world.

It was a cherished moment of pride for the Alma-mater, DPS Bokaro, and his parents as Amartya expressed his gratitude for the holistic education imparted in the school and the opportunities on campus that honed his potentials excellently.

The letter of approval was received with great joy and celebration as it was a rare opportunity that many crave but only a few are destined to receive.

An elated Dr. Hemlata S. Mohan, Director and Principal, showered her blessings on Amartya and wished him success and impetus for all his future endeavors.